WHAT IS GREEK LIFE?

The Mission of the Greek Life Office is to provide fraternities and sororities with educational programs and services that create, promote, and foster a learning community. UGA Greek Life is comprised of four councils; Interfraternity, Panhellenic, National Pan-Hellenic, and Multicultural Greek. Each council is unique in its own nature, but all contribute to diversity initiatives, leadership programs, and academics.

The Panhellenic Council is the governing body for the 20 National Panhellenic Conference (NPC) sororities at UGA and is responsible for promoting scholarship, philanthropy, personal growth, health, safety, and involvement in sorority life and the Greek community as a whole. They host the formal recruitment process in August.

National Pan-Hellenic Council

NPHC brings unity among traditionally African American sororities and fraternities on campus. NPHC at UGA currently consists of six organizations: three fraternities and three sororities. The NPHC council promotes development through forums, meetings and other various activities and functions.

Multicultural Greek Council

MGC is an umbrella organization for 11 organizations. Their motto is "Unity through Diversity" and have built a support system based on celebrating differences and connecting through their common goals of brother/sisterhood and cultural advocacy.

Interfraternity Council

IFC is the governing body for 26 social fraternities on campus. IFC is responsible for creating policies, promoting academic excellence, and planning Fraternity Recruitment. They recruit members throughout the summer and formally in the Fall Semester.
