What is COB Spring Recruitment?

Continuous Open Bidding (COB) is an informal recruitment process used by Panhellenic sororities to recruit new members outside the official primary recruitment period, allowing them to reach the maximum number of members permitted.

How does the COB Spring Recruitment process work?

To get started, please fill out the COB Interest Form linked above so we can confirm your interest in the process and add you to our email list for further updates. On January 6th, everyone who has submitted the form will receive an email with a list of participating chapters and their contact information. The chapters will also receive the contact details of all women who filled out the form. From there, you can reach out to chapters to connect with members, whether through a casual meet-up (like a walk or coffee) to get to know the women of that chapter. Based on these interactions, chapters may extend bids to join.

Spring COB Fair

The Spring COB Fair is an event where participating chapters come together to share information about their organizations with women taking part in the COB process. Think of it as a meet-and-greet! It's a fantastic opportunity to connect with chapters and learn more about what they have to offer. No RSVP or sign up necessary.

Where: Tate Grand Hall January 8th from 6-8pm

What to wear: Cute casual attire, think jeans & a sweater or athleisure is fine too!

Who will be there: We won't know until closer to the beginning of the year, but will post on Instagram as soon as we know!

Spring COB FAQ

How many chapters participate in the COB process?

- Only chapters that are below their membership capacity and able to invite new members will participate. The specific chapters won't be confirmed until closer to the event, but the final list of participating chapters will be emailed to all women who filled out the COB Interest Form on January 6th.

How do I reach out to chapters?

- Chapters have informed Panhellenic how they want to be contacted, and their contact information will be in the emailed on January 6th. You should definitely reach out to chapters that you are interested in!

Am I guaranteed a bid?

- Unfortunately, the number of available spots does not match the number of women participating.

I am still confused about this process, what should I do?

- Please feel free to reach out to panhellenicrec@uga.edu with all questions. Also, make sure you are following ugarecruitment and ugapanhellenic on Instagram for all updates.
